

Project Redsand c10

Environmental Policy Statement

Project Redsand (PRS), are an environmentally conscious Organisation and as such, we acknowledge the potential environmental impact that we may cause, whilst we undertake the restoration of the Maunsel sea forts known as Redsand.

This policy has been endorsed by the Trustees of the Organisation, who fully support its implementation. The Trustees are responsible for ensuring that our policy is communicated, understood, implemented and maintained throughout the organisation at all levels.

We are committed to preventing pollution and environmental damage wherever possible and to the continual improvement of our environmental performance and footprint.

As an Organisation, Project Redsand is committed to ensuring that we:

- Comply to all environmental legislation and other requirements, including, codes of practice and guidance produced by regulatory bodies, related to our environmental aspects.
- Provide all volunteers with the necessary resources, equipment, information, instruction to fulfil the requirements of this policy, commensurate with their role.
- Prevent pollution to the environment wherever we possibly can and to strive to integrate environmental best practice into our everyday working operations.
- Minimise waste wherever possible and reduce waste to landfill by actively promoting the reduction of waste generation. To recycle waste where possible and where economically and operationally feasible.

Our Organisational environmental policy will be communicated to all volunteers and organisations working for or on our behalf or PRS. Volunteers and organisations working for PRS are expected to co-operate with the implementation of this policy, whilst ensuring that their own work, so far as reasonably and practicably is carried out to exacting standards without risk to themselves, others or the environment.

The policy statement is publicly available on our website and is subject to review annually or sooner if deemed necessary
